👤 PROFILE

Dynamic and seasoned Software Developer with a strong focus on delivering exceptional results in the realm of broadcasting and media. Proficient in Microservices architecture, MariaDB, PHP, MySQL, and Object-Oriented Programming (OOP), I bring a wealth of expertise in optimizing system performance and scalability. My skill set extends to utilizing Redis for data caching, developing robust REST APIs, and leveraging Windows Presentation Foundation (WPF) for creating intuitive user interfaces. I am adept in Python, MongoDB, and various front-end technologies such as Angular and Vue.js, ensuring the delivery of dynamic and user-friendly interfaces. With a solid background in SQL, C#, and ASP.NET MVC, I excel in backend development, offering comprehensive solutions to meet diverse project needs. Actively participating in code reviews, troubleshooting, and tool development, I consistently demonstrate adaptability to emerging technologies, fostering a commitment to continuous learning and innovation. My proven ability to navigate complex projects and collaborate effectively positions me as a valuable asset to any forward-thinking company seeking expertise in software development and cutting-edge technologies.
